ADVENTISTS IN QUADRENNIAL SESSION

DELEGATES FROM ALL PARTS OF CALIFORNIA, ARIZONA, NEVADA AND UTAH, GATHER IN GLENDALE IN NEWLY COMPLETED CHURCH FOR DISCUSSION OF CHURCH PLANS

ELDER CHRISTIAN GIVES THE OPENING ADDRESS

The quadrennial session of the Pacific Union Conference of Seventh-day Adventists assembled for the election of officers, study of church problems and the laying of plans for advancement in all lines opened at the newly finished Adventist church at Isabel and California streets at 2:30 yesterday afternoon with delegates in attendance from all parts of California, Arizona, Nevada and Utah. Again last night a great throng gathered, filling the auditorium to capacity.

The first meeting for the transaction of business will be held this evening at 7:30. Delegates arriving yesterday received their assignments of locations, and spent the time seeing Glendale and meeting old friends. Elders J. Adams Stevens and M. A. Hollister of the reception committee arranged for the comfort of the many guests. Early in the day they established reception headquarters at the church for the convenience of all. The large amount of preliminary work done during the past few weeks in securing rooms for the expected visitors made yesterday's task of assigning all to their places of abode for the coming ten days a comparatively easy one.

The Daily Program

The daily program for the convention, as announced last night by Elder J. W. Christian, president of the Pacific Union Conference, is as follows: Devotional, 8:45 to 9:45 a. m.; study of the world-wide field, by Elder Arthur G. Daniells, president General Conference, 9:45 to 10:45; conference, 11 a. m. to 12:30; dinner, 12:30 to 2 p. m.; conference, 2:30 to 4 p. m.; round table talks, 4:15 to 5:30 p.m.; preaching or conference, 7:30 p.m. The program was varied today, however, the regular Sabbath services having been held this morning, including Sabbath school at 9:30, and an interesting discourse at 11 a.m. by Elder Daniells on "The Providences of God." A Sabbath afternoon service at 3:30 also was held today.

Elder Christian Gives Opening Address

That a revival of true godliness is the greatest need of the church, but that a revival can not come unless the recipients diligently seek it, were thoughts expressed by Elder Christian in opening the big convention yesterday afternoon. "God has not forsaken His people," said Elder Christian. "We are in the day when a revival is due. It is our work, by repentance, confession and earnest prayer to fulfill the conditions by which God will grant us His blessing. A revival may be expected only in answer to prayer. We can not legislate it in. We can not vote it in. We must ask, seek, knock.

"We are assured that 'if Satan had his way there would never be another awakening, great or small, to the end of time.' But Satan will not have his way. God breaks through for the help of His people, to revive their hearts, and give them an experience which enables them to work for the salvation of others. Greater than the election of officers, or any other mechanical part of our meeting is the seeking after God which comes into our midst. Let us begin our meeting in God's way."

Elder Quinn Speaks

Elder R. D. Quinn, the speaker at the service last night, pointed out that the experiences in life which bring disappointment and sorrow are often permitted by a kind Providence, that they may serve as stepping stones to a more useful life. He said the Red Sea journey by way of the mountains, through desert sands, by bitter waters, ought not to call forth a spirit of murmuring and fault-finding, but a spirit of thanks-

HIGH SCHOOL DOINGS

ENROLLMENT AT G. U. H. 850 AGAINST 640 LAST YEAR AT THIS TIME

This has been a strenuous week at Glendale Union High School where the arrangement of programs to accommodate the 850 students now in attendance has been a task of no small magnitude. A year ago at this time there were but 640 students under instruction there.

Still another problem has been the adjustment of big classes to the available class rooms. To make room for the large ones, small classes have had to be ousted from rooms specially adapted to their use and sent into quarters illy equipped for their purposes, while the large classes thrust into the vacated rooms have been equally out of place. Also it has been necessary to divide assemblies. At the last one held there were two overflow meetings in study halls. However, school work is going forward and adjustment will soon be reached, the authorities predict.

One new teacher has been employer, Miss Harriet Brown.

Thursday morning at 9 o'clock special memorial exercises were held in honor of Abraham Lincoln. The chief number in the gathering held in the auditorium was the reading by Miss Terry, head of the dramatic section, of extracts from the play, "Abraham Lincoln," written by John Drinkwater, a celebrated English playwright, which has proved to be the most popular play on the English stage this season. In it Drinkwater has attempted to feature his conception of Lincoln's nobility of character. It has made an es-

WATER BONDS TO BE ISSUED

An ordinance providing for the issuing of the water bonds recently voted by the city in the sum of $260,000, was read for the third time at last night's meeting of the City Trustees, and passed. Immediately after its becoming a law, 30 days from its first publication, the bonds will be advertised for sale and there is no doubt that they will be quickly disposed of, as City Clerk Sherer has already a stack of inquiries regarding the bonds, 30 or 40 in number.

TRUSTEES' MEETING

ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR ISSUANCE OF $260,000 BONDS IS PASSED

The Board assembled at 8 p. m., February 13, 1920. Present were Trustees Henry, Muhleman and Woodberry. Abesent: Jackson and Shaw.

The minutes of the regular meeting of February 5, 1920, were read and approved. In the absence of Trustee Shaw the Chairman appointed Trustee Woodberry to act on the Finance Committee.

A written communication was presented from the Health Officer in regard to the prevalence of influenza. In the communication it was recommended that the City open an influenza hospital to take care of the sick on account of the County Hospital being unable to care for any more patients. It was further stated that owing to the shortage of nurses it would be possible for one nurse in a hospital to care for a number of cases. The Health Officer made the following specific recommendations:

First, that twelve beds and supplies for same be purchased.

Second, that a charge of $20 per week be made for a patient in a ward, and $25 per week be charged in a room, when any are available.

Third, that a committee of three be appointed to investigate cases in which it is claimed that the patient is unable to pay the adopted price.

On motion of Trustee Woodberry, referred to committee of the whole.

A communication was read from Chester Versteeg, representing the Sierra Club of California, protesting against the proposed cutting of a giant "G" on the south face of Verdugo Mountain by the Student Body of the Glendale Union High School. On motion of Trustee Henry, it was referred to the City Attorney and City Manager.

A communication was read from City Recorder F. H. Lowe requesting that he be allowed to take a portion of his 1920 vacation at this time, taking every other day for a period of two weeks. The communication further stated that the writer expects to devote the major portion of that time in an effort to secure the necessary funds for the construction of a swimming pool in Glendale's newly acquired park. On motion of Trustee Woodberry the request was granted.

Demands were presented and referred to the finance committee. The finance committee reported back the demands approved and on motion of Trustee Woodberry warrants were issued to be paid for same.

Bids received in compliance with advertisement calling for the same, for the drilling of a well on the city's property on the San Fernando Road, were opened and declared.

On motion of Trustee Henry the bids were referred to the City Manager and Engineer to report upon.

The City Clerk reported the filing of protests against the closing of an alley in Tract No. 618, by J. W. Fairchild, Harriett H. Fairchild, David C. Carney, and C. A. Bunting. On motion of Trustee Woodberry it was ordered that a hearing on these protests be held on Thursday, February 26, 1920, at 8 o'clock p. m., and the clerk was directed to give notice of the same to the protestants.

The City Manager recommended that he be given authority to employ an assistant to the Building and Electrical Inspector during the present conditions as existing in the building industry. On motion of Trustee Henry recommendation of the City Manager was adopted.

City Manager recommended that the City Clerk be instructed to advertise for bids for certain supplies for the Public Service Department, as specified in a memorandum submitted by him. On motion of Trustee Henry the City Clerk was instructed to that effect, the bids to be opened Thursday, February 26, 1920, at 8 o'clock p. m.

The City Attorney having examined a new garbarge contract between the city and Mr. L. C. Orndorff and given it his approval, on motion of Trustee Woodberry the Chairman of the Board of Trustees and the City Clerk were instructed to execute the same on behalf of the city. In connection with this contract Mr. Orndorff filed a bond in the sum of $1000, which was accepted and approved.

The ordinance previously presented to the Board of Trustees proving for the issuance of bonds to the extent of $260,000 was, on motion of Trustee Henry, adopted as Ordinance No. 371. "An ordinance providing for the issue of bonds of the City of Glendale in the sum of $260,000, for the acquisition, construction and completion of certain municipal improvements in connection with the combined development, operation and improvement of the water works and system and the electric light works and system of the City of Glendale."

On motion of Trustee Woodberry the City Clerk was instructed to secure bids for samples for the printing of bonds and present the same to the trustees for approval.

Trustee Henry presented an ordinance providing for the establishment of an industrial district, which on motion was ordered to be laid over until the next regular meeting of the Board for action. A number of residents near the proposed district were present, and Mrs. Peters and others expressed their protests against the adoption of the proposed ordinance.

On motion of Trustee Woodberry, Mr. Charles Phipps was engaged to examine the records of the county offices in regard to the collection of Glendale city taxes. Mr. Phipps to be paid ten (10) dollars per day, not to exceed ten (10) days in all.

LANSING'S RESIGNATION BEWILDERS

NOT SINCE BRYAN'S RESIGNATION HAS A BREAK IN THE CABINET CAUSED SO MUCH DISCUSSION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Further disclosures were believed to be imminent in the controversy between President Wilson and Robert Lansing which resulted in his resignation as Secretary of State last night. The full story of the long continued friction between them is expected to come to light within a few days. Although Wilson's announced reason for accepting Lansing's resignation was that the secretary had called and presided over cabinet meetings without the sanction of the president, long conflict in the conduct of foreign affairs led to the final clash, according to correspondence between Wilson and Lansing. One of the first disclosures, it was learned today, probably will be the publication of the letter of resignation of H. P. Fletcher, former ambassador to Mexico. This letter was said to be a criticism of Wilson's policy toward Mexico.

GLENDALE HIGH WINS

CAPTURES DEBATING CHAMPIONSHIP FROM SOUTH PASADENA AND ALHAMBRA

The fact that the contest at the High School last evening was the championship debate which would determine the winning or losing of the highest honor to be bestowed by the Suburban Athletic and Debating League of Southern California together with the silver cup should have attracted a much larger audience than was assembled. It was an interested, sympathetic audience, however, which followed the points made with keen appreciation and which cheered the speakers with hearty and impartial applause.

The president of the Student Body, Leland Wise, being one of the debaters, was unable to preside, but his place was filled with grace and dignity by Miss Harriet Barnes, president of the Girls' League, who was irreproachable in her conduct of the meeting and very favorably impressed the audience.

The three judges were D. F. Swan, instructor in Los Angeles High; Mr. Hogan of Hollywood, vice president Farmers and Merchants National Bank, and Judge Leslie Hewitt of the Superior Court, Los Angeles. The Glendale speakers, Leland Wise and Paul Hutchinson, were opposed by Nina Wright and Katherine Rogers of Alhambra, and the question debated was, "Resolved, That the Chinese Exclusion Act should be so amended as to permit the importation of a limited number of unskilled Chinese laborers for a period of not more than five years under bond to be returned at the end of the period."

Paul Hutchinson as first speaker for the affirmative, stated that his side would undertake to prove the feasibility of the proposition; second, the economic necessity; third, the need of such labor upon the farms; fourth, that it would be a practical method of getting rid of the Japanese menace. He contended that it would be entirely feasible because the labor would be carefully selected and physically examined before being allowed to enter and would come in under

SHAW EXPLAINS

HARTLEY SHAW GIVES BONDING CAPACITY OF G. U. H. SCHOOL DISTRICT

Feb. 13, 1920.

Mr. A. T. Cowan,
Editor Glendale Evening News,
Glendale, Cal.

Dear Sir:

In the News of yesterday I notice an account of the formation of an organization to oppose the issuance of bonds of the Glendale Union High School District under the proposition which will be submitted to the voters on February 27th, and I also notice the statement as one of the arguments against the issue that the proposed issue of $425,000 will exceed the bonding capacity of the district by $5000. If the gentlemen who formed this organization do not believe the scheme now under consideration is to the best interests of the High School District, they have an undoubted right to organize to oppose it and no exceptions can be taken to their action in that regard. But the public are entitled to correct statements of the facts relating to the proposed bond issue; and the persons responsible for the above mentioned statement regarding the present bonding capacity of the District have, no doubt, inadvertently fallen into an error.

As I have several times publicly stated, the present additional bonding capacity of the Glendale Union High School District is $445,368. The facts by which this figure is determined are matters of public record and easily available for examination. The Glendale Union High School District consists of the following common school districts: Glendale City, Eagle Rock City, Crescenta and Glorietta, the last named having been annexed by a vote of the Board of Supervisors made September 15, 1919. The assessed valuation of these respective common school districts for 1919 is as follows: Glendale City, $8,403,590; Eagle Rock City, $1,846,390; Crescenta, $821,625; Glorietta, $385,770; total for the High School District, $11,457,375. The limit of the bonded indebtedness of the High School District is five per cent of its assessed valuation which amounts on the above valuation to $572,868. The present outstanding bonded indebtedness of the District is $127,500, which, when deducted from the above mentioned bonding capacity, leaves a present available capacity of $445,368. The proposed bond issue is $20,000 less than this and hence is well within the limit. In the above mentioned statement in your paper the indebtedness is given as $130,000. This is possibly taken from the annual report of the Board of Supervisors of 1919, which gives that amount of indebtedness on June 30, 1919, but since that date payments have been made reducing the present amount to $127,500. The Taxpayers' Guide for 1919, published by the County Auditor, also states the assessed valuation of the Glendale Union High School District as

GLENDALE BOY HURT BY AUTO IN L. A.

Ardell McLaughlin, 9 years old, of 816 South Maryland Avenue, was badly injured yesterday afternoon in Los Angeles at about 3 o'clock. He was waiting for the Glendale car on Lake Shore Avenue, at Temple St., and when it approached he started across the street to board it. An auto was coming rapidly from the north and as he stepped back to avoid it the car swerved to the right and struck him, throwing him some distance. His head and face were badly cut and bruised, the right leg bruised and ankle cut and sprained. He was taken at once to the receiving hospital and later brought to the Glendale Sanitarium, where Dr. Eckles is attending him. The doctor says no bones were broken and that there is no fracture of the skull. He looks for the patient to make an early recovery.

ADVENTIST CONVENTION

giving to God, who, knowing the end from the beginning, does all things well, and causes all things to "work together for good to them that love God, who are the called according to His purpose." He called attention to the experiences of Moses, Joshua, and the apostle Paul, when with Silas, his companion in gospel labor, he was scourged and imprisoned in stocks in the dungeon for his faith. He also mentioned the martyrdom of John the Baptist.

"I do not wish to have you consider me as a man standing before you to tell any of you what you ought to do, but I would like to spend ten days with you in prayer, endeavoring to find our way back to the upper room experience of the early apostles, and then, with heart and soul, to go forward as one man to distinguish ourselves as those men did in early days.

"We belong to the apostolic succession, but we are, indeed, the true followers of our Lord. I have thought some times, 'How dare we lay claim to the apostolic mission without the apostolic experience?' It is fraught with peril for any man to identify himself with this great apostolic mission and succession, whose life does not measure up to that of those early heralds of the gospel of our Lord, Jesus Christ.

"We now live in the seventy-sixth year since the hour of God's investigative judgment began in heaven. It is not a question how we are coming out, now, it is a question how God is coming out. God sent us out to preach the gospel. He told us to tell people everywhere that the Lord was coming in this generation, that he was coming personally in the clouds of heaven, and that every eye would see him. People have believed our words. Yet we are still here. We can not go on forever teaching and preaching as we have during these last decades. So I can see clearly that if there should be further delay in the giving of the gospel to the world, the character of God and His throne would be compromised. But, friends, it will never happen. God will finish His work in His own time. I understand that He is able to do that quickly, and that He isn't dependent altogether upon us, either.

"I am persuaded that it is a greater task for the Lord to get us ready to do His work, than to do the work after we are ready. The Omnipotent One assures us, 'I will make all My mountains a way,' as we read in Isaiah 49:11. The way home is by the way of the mountains, by the way of Gethsemane, of Calvary, of Golgotha. Somehow, God uses obstacles to serve His purpose. The obstacles we encounter along life's pathway are intended by God to give us an experience for higher service.

"Did it ever occur to you that when God led Israel out of Egypt he took them by the way of the mountains? The way of the plains was only eleven days' journey from Egypt into Canaan. They spent 40 years in the wilderness. The experience was a necessary one. They left Egypt as a rabble, a great mixed multitude. They entered the promised land a well trained army. Notwithstanding their hardships, the children of Israel left Egypt by divine appointment. God led them in all their journeyings.

"The great trouble with ancient Israel was that they stumbled at difficulties; found fault and complained at obstacles. The people believed in God, but they didn't believe in God's providences. God wants us to learn that He has ordained the experiences of our lives, and will permit none to come to us except what are for our good.

"It was a long, long way from Nile to Nebo—not very far in distance, but a long, long way in experience. Yet it was none too long to develop character, to discipline that great host, and to prepare them to march into Canaan. Moses was a great leader, but nowhere do you read that anybody ever said, 'Thank you,' to him. You do read, however, that he was refused the two things he asked on his own account, first, that he might see God's face, and second, that he might enter the promised land.

"I think the sooner we discover that life's perplexities and experiences are permitted by the Captain of our salvation to develop character, and are only God's workmen, after all, whereby good can come to us, the sooner we will be among the number by whom God can do greater things.

"We have, as it were, a few brief years left in which to prove we are Christ's followers. Let us ring true. Let us never again question any suffering or trouble or discipline that may come to us. But 'let no man suffer as an evil doer or a busybody in other men's matters.' If we suffer because we are walking with Christ and endeavoring to do His will, there will be a blessing in it."

INFORMAL AFTERNOON TEA

Mrs. A. S. Chase of 400 West Riverdale Drive, assisted by her aunt, Miss Scott, was hostess Friday afternoon at one of the most delightful of the chain of teas which have been given for the Tuesday Afternoon Club building fund. California poppies provided a gay floral decoration for the large living room in which guests disposed themselves in comfort while they discussed a variety of topics informally and enjoyed a brief program which included piano nhmbers by Mrs. George Lyon and dramatic readings by Miss Doris Packer, who gave effective interpretations of "In Texas by the Rio Grande," and "The Letter," which were much enjoyed. At the close of the afternoon coffee and fresh doughnuts, for which Mrs. Chase is famous, were served. Her guest list included: Mrs. Emerson and daughter, Miss Irene Mueller, Mrs. M. 1000 SERVICE MEN

STUDENTS FROM EVERY STATE IN UNION ENROLLED IN PRESENT CLASS

During the first year of its existence, the Ford Service Course, organized January 1, 1918, by the Ford Motor Company, graduated more than 1,000 service men who came to Detroit from Ford dealers in various parts of the United States to learn the proper and most efficient way to repair Ford cars. It is the intention of the company to eventually have every service man and mechanic employed by Authorized Ford dealers come to Detroit to take the course.

Appointments are made through the Ford branches, one of which sends five delegates each day. The time occupied is one month, and it is divided between theory and practice. The students are paid by the Ford Company for their time—a part of which is spent doing actual work on cars in the factory. In the present class are 120 students, and every state is represented.

The expenditure of $150,000, which was the cost of beginning this course, is looked upon by company officials as a good investment because it will help to give standard service to car owners.

PETIT TACOT

THE FRENCH HAVE GREAT RESPECT FOR FORDS, SAYS LIEUTENANT REED

A recent visitor to the local plant of the Ford Motor Company was Lieut. Stanley B. Reed, late of the Tank Corps of the United States Army. In company with Mr. B. L. Graves, the Los Angeles manager, he inspected the entire plant and reported himself amazed with what he saw there.

"It was in France," he said, "that I first became well acquainted with the Ford car or the 'petit tacot' as the French call them. Tacot is argot, or French slang for flivver. The French people adore the Fords and never cease to wonder at the way they get around and the large burdens they are able to carry. In America we look upon the Ford as a small car, but in France it is really a large car, for all the French cars are very small in size. Often I have driven along the Bois de Boulogne in Paris, where on a Sunday morning and afternoon all the Haute Monde or society takes its airing and amongst the many French cars passing up and down I would see a Ford limousine, and really compared with these French cars it seemed very large.

"My duties at one time used to take me over a large portion of the country around Bordeaux and as I was only a "Shavetail" or Second Lieutenant I did not rank high enough to be given one of the cars reserved for colonels or generals; I had placed at my disposal a Ford touring car. In it I would cover all the towns I had to inspect and never in all our trips did we have an accident. In fact, lots of times we were called upon to aid some of the larger and more powerful cars when they were out of commission. I remember one day in particular when going from St. Emillion to Libourne we passed a large car of one of the popular makes with the driver working over the engine. I stopped to see if we could be of any assistance, and found it to be the car of the General commanding the district. He was fussing and fuming at delay, so I offered to take him to his destination in my car. Much to my surprise he accepted, and so we left the big car standing there and soon had the General at the place he was making for. He thanked me very much for the lift and said, 'You Lieutenants have the advantage over us in the matter of cars, your Fords always get you there while sometimes our large cars do not.'"

Valves Reground!

Is your motor tapping—gently tapping? Then the valves should be reground. They're not seating properly and you're wasting lots of power that you ought to be using. We regrind valves, remove carbon, clean the engine so thoroughly and satisfactorily that you have no "regrets" when you drive your car out of our shop.

CONTRACT AWARDED

The California Highway Commission has awarded a contract for the construction of a section of the State Highway in Riverside County, extending to the southern boundary, a distance of about 14.3 miles, to Chas. D. Soteras of Los Angeles, who was the single bidder in the sum of $254,938.20. This bid was slightly above the engineer's estimate, but the commission considered that its acceptance was for the best interests of the state.

Ross told the entrancing stories of the lives and work of these great leaders of the long ago. He touched upon the fundamental facts of life, whether lived in Old Testament times or in our modern day. God's call has always been a call to submission, first of all to the Divine will, and then a call to service. Personals

Prof. F. Lee Chauvan of 505 West Colorado Street has been confined to his home for the past week with inflammatory rheumatism.

Mrs. Richardson D White is just getting up from an illness which has kept her confined to her home for the past three months. Now that the tide has turned she hopes soon to be in normal health.

Mrs. Harry McQuown of San Dimas is spending the week-end with Mrs. George Wilson of North Glendale Avenue and other old friends. Mrs. McQuown formerly resided in Glendale on Orange Street.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Crampton and daughter, who have been living at 213 East Chestnut Street for some time, are moving Monday to a new home they have purchased from Mr. McCartney at 325 West Burchett Street.

Officer Trautwein is keeping an eye out for the speed motor that was taken off the radiator of his car last Monday night while he was attending the meeting of the Elks' Lodge. He thinks some boy took it because it seemed a novelty to him and afterward sold it.

Mrs. Aileen MacMullin left Thursday via Santa Fe to visit relatives in Kansas City and Chicago. Her brother, Harold Preeman, has just returned from a week of combined business and pleasure in San Francisco.

Mrs. George Squires and daughter, new comers to our city who purchased property at 320 Riverdale Drive not long ago, feel quite well established in their Glendale home. Miss Squires, who took a course in interior decoration in New York City, is opening a studio in Hollywood with Mrs. Muchmore, who is also from New York.

Mrs. Albert McCoy of 1127 East Wilson Avenue was hostess Friday afternoon at one of the Tuesday Afternoon Club teas, her guest list including Mesdames Ray Phillips, A. K. Crawford, J. W. Stauffacher, Mary Shropshire, Lois Richardson, Henry Lawrence, Ed Lee, R. P. Isitt, L. W. Sinclair, Emma Miltonberger, L. W. Andrews, J. M. Crawford and Lester Jones. A pleasant social afternoon was spent by the ladies over their needlework and light refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mrs. H. A. McPherson recently received a telephone message from her daughter, Vera, who is teaching in Bear Valley, reporting a big snow storm at the same time that rain fell here, which left eight inches of snow in the valley and three feet on the summit. She said it was very beautiful and she and Miss Hibben are enjoying it immensely; also that the only way for the outside world to get in is by way of the desert and Victorville. She does not expect to come down again until Easter time. Mr. and Mrs. William MacMullin and party are leaving today for Bear Valley in the expectation of spending a week there.

The club tea given by Mrs. Blake Franklin Friday afternoon at her home on West Wilson Avenue proved an exceedingly pleasant social afternoon for the ladies entertained. The living rooms were decorated for the event with marigolds and cinerahias in effective combinations. Tea and light refreshments were served, the guest list including Mesdames S. R. Frazee, J. H. Franklin, H. Van Pelt, Harry Spalding, her house guest, Mrs. Greer, Jessie Joseph, Georgiana Bell, N. G. Jackson, Nellie Stevens, P. V. Potter, W. W. Worley, A. R. Cassell, W. H. Spink, R. E. Downing and C. N. Van Dyke.

Mrs. W. A. Tanner of 400 North Louise entertained Friday with a valentine luncheon in honor of Mrs. Charles Crane of Clear Lake, Ia., and her mother, Mrs. J. K. Hill. All the guests had been former residents of Clear Lake and following the luncheon they spent a very pleasant afternoon over their needlework discussing old times and old friends. Covers were laid for Mrs. R. M. Brown, Mrs. V. M. Hollister, Mrs. Frank Hill of Hollywood, Miss Hattie Halverson and Mrs. Jack Dunham of Los Angeles, Mrs. Henry Smith and daughter, Miss Lou Smith, of Pasadena, and the hostess.

CENTRAL AVE. P.-T. A.

A very fitting and entertaining program was furnished the members of the Central Avenue P.-T. A. at their regular meeting on Lincoln's Birthday.

A group of girls from the sixth grade opened the program with the singing of "America the Beautiful."

A patriotic reading, "The Old Flag Forever," was given by Genevieve Burr.

Mrs. J. Glenwood Jones gave an address on "Americanization." Mrs. Jones has recently returned from New York, where she has been engaged in social service work. Her experiences in the work as she told them were most interesting and educational. At the close of the meeting light refreshments were served the guests and members.

3 Reasons

Why men insure their lives:

Love of family,
Fear of old age,
Business necessity.

3 Reasons why they don't:

No love of family,
Can't pass the test,
Can't pay for it.

3 things often put off till too late:

Making peace with God,
Drawing a Will,
Buying Life-Insurance.

Are you guilty? Today is yesterday's tomorrow. Delay no longer.

bond and remain under government supervision after being carefully photographed and listed to be returned at the end of five years; that 100,000 would be the maximum number to be imported; that it would not come into competition with white labor because it would be used on the farms where white labor is not to be obtained at the present time because of the demand for and high wages paid skilled laborers by the factories and other avenues of employment. He suggested that when this labor was not needed upon the farms it could be employed by the government in building a national highway from the Atlantic to the Pacific, which would be of value to all America. As an economic necessity he mentioned the possible reduction of the high cost of living by the increased production which might be brought about by cheap farm labor. He declared that eleven states had asked for the repeal of the Chinese exclusion act or at least for its amendment. As to the farm labor problem he declared that the brains and skill of American men are needed in the factories and other high grades of labor which are five years behind in production, and for that reason we should be willing to import this cheap labor to release American labor for the better grades of work; also that the Chinaman understands intensive farming and can make our ranches yield more by reason of his skill in that line; that there are 45,000,000 acres in California susceptible of cultivation of which 15,000,000 are now lying idle when they should be producing. He declared that the Chinese have proved to be the most dependable labor that has been found in the cotton fields and there is great need for them there; that they are not coming here to take away work from Americans but to perform the work that Americans are unwilling to do. He quoted Edison's prediction that the world is to be run by machinery and that the worker will be the brain behind the machine.

The next speaker, Miss Rogers, declared the carrying out of such a proposition would mean the breaking down of the labor unions; that it would lower the standard of American living; that it would create such a racial problem as we now have with the Japanese and the American negro; that it would sacrifice the ideals of democracy. With cheap Chinese labor available the farmer, she declared, would no longer be willing to pay American farm labor $5 a day. That labor would go to the cities and create a surplus which would make labor helpless in the hands of capital. She cited the situation of the railway men now threatening to strike who, she declared, are receiving an average wage of only $3 a day, which is not a living wage now. The union, she contended, is the only weapon labor has. Our war slogan, she declared, had been that we must make the world safe for democracy, but the democracy of labor should not be forgotten,; she then quoted the words of President Wilson relative to the democratization of labor. She cited the U. S. Steel Corporation as an example of what a corporation would do to men when unorganized, where the men were required to work 12 days for 12 hours a day, 12 days for 14 hours a day and two days for 20 hours a day. The mode of living of the lower class of Chinese she pronounced indescribable, and quoted Dr. Pomeroy, County Health Officer, as saying that the Chinese are great carriers of disease. Not a case of leprosy was known in California, she insisted, until the Chinese brought it here and now it is a fixed disease. She quoted the head of the Chinese Chamber of Commerce as having said that his countrymen would work for $1 a day. This the American would have to compete with and would necessarily be forced to lower his standards of living.

Leland Wise, the second affirmative speaker, referred to the success of the plan of importing Chinese labor into France during the war, to the fact that such labor had been returned to China, and that our soldiers all speak well of that labor. He referred to the "gentlemen's agreement" with Japan under which we have allowed the Japanese to come in by the thousands while we excluded the Chinese. He said Secretary of State Frank Jordan supports the proposition because farmers of California who produce one billion dollars' worth of foodstuffs need the labor. He spoke of the honesty and integrity of the Chinese and upright dealing as a very advantageous quality, and mentioned the further fact that they have always been law-abiding and never susceptible to the doctrines of anarchy, that they practice the golden rule. He compared them with the Japanese in this state who have cornered potato production here and who, he declared, are the greatest profiteers in the world, having boosted potatoes to a price which makes their use prohibitive on many tables. These profits, he said, go back to Japan. If we would import the Shantung Chinese, he insisted, they could compete with the Japanese and would soon drive them to pastures new in South America, Mexico or elsewhere. While Americans would benefit by the importations, the Chinese also would gain, he thought, by contact with Western ideals which would be carried back to China.

Miss Nina Wright, the second negative speaker, declared that the importation of Chinese labor to meet the needs of American farmers would but duplicate the mistake we made when we imported negroes for the same reason and would simply invite another race problem such as we now have with the American negro and the Japanese. The only difference would be the payment to these laborers of the munificent sum of $1.25 per day, she declared. "If we can not compete with the Japanese, how can we expect to compete with the Chinese if we import them?" she queried. "Which is worse, the wage slave or the bond slave?" She also said: "In our hysteria over the Japanese menace we have lost sight of the possibility of creating a Chinese menace. As to the democratic ideals which the Chinaman would carry back, she asked what sort of an ideal of the square deal of America would the Chinamen get when into his palm was placed at the end of his day's work $1.25 while the white man along side would receive $5. Cheap Chinese labor would, she declared, increase class hatred and widen the breach between capital and labor which could only be bridged by justice and fair dealing; that it would more than ever incline labor to listen to the propaganda of the I. W. W. Labor has been criticized, she said, as being only sixty per cent efficient, but if true it was justified, she argued, because while the cost of living has advanced 131 per cent wages have been advanced but 80 per cent. Give the workman a fair wage and he will give a fair day's work, she insisted.

In the rebuttals both sides answered what they pronounced the misinterpretation of their arguments, and judges were then requested to retire and compare their ratings. In less than five minutes their report was in the hands of Miss Barnes, who announced their decision of two for Glendale and one for Alhambra. Vociferous cheers from local rooters rent the air and the Glendale debaters were immediately surrounded by their friends eager to congratulate them. The good work done by the visiting team was not overlooked, however, and they, too, were commended for the excellent manner in which they handled the negative side of this big question.

Joy over the victory was increased when the delegation which attended the negative team returned from South Pasadena where the Glendale team also won with a score of two out of three, against an Armenian boy, Gertmenian and Glenn Lambke. The judges were Mr. Thomas of the City Attorney's office, Los Angeles; Mr. Smith, a real estate broker of Los Angeles, and B. Dudley Snudden, a former resident of Glendale, who is now pastor of the South Pasadena Methodist Church. Those who heard it say it was a fine contest, highly creditable to all who participated. As the score now stands, Glendale has won during the season four debates and ten judges; South Pasadena has won two debates and seven judges; Alhambra has a credit of two debates and six judges.

This victory gives the debating pennant of the league to Glendale High and also the beautiful silver cup now at Nordlingers, which will be brought here for exhibition as soon as it can be engraved.

The personal honors which will come to the debaters with the close of the season will include a gold pin to John Worley for participation in four debates, a bronze pin to Francis Read, who has taken part in one debate, and silver pins to the following: Paul Hutchinson and Leland Wise for two debates each, and Jack Jenkins for three debates.

GOOD ADVERTISEMENT

GOOD ROADS OF LOS ANGELES COUNTY HER CHIEF ASSET

Nothing outside of climate serves to advertise Los Angeles County more than its splendid highway system.

According to Jonathan S. Dodge, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, there are in round figures 3850 miles of roads in this county under maintenance, of which 375 miles are paved, about 200 miles of secondary gravel roads, and the remainder oiled dirt roads. This mileage is entirely outside of incorporated cities, and does not include paved highways constructed in this county by the state of California.

Paved road construction is going forward at the aveage rate of 40 miles per year, and at a cost of about $600,000, of which the greater part is paid for in bonds of local improvement districts.

Maintenance of paved roads averages $300,000 per year, and the upkeep of unpaved roads costs the County about $500,000 annually.

Bridge construction averages $100,000 a year, and maintenance averages $35,000 per year.

Chairman Dodge further points out that the total expenditures of the County Road Department have averaged one and one-half million dollars per year for the past five years, and it is expected that the program for this year will reach two millions of dollars.

Certainly no one begrudges the expenditures that have been made for highways, and it must be remembered that Los Angeles County was the pioneer in the construction of permanent roads. The original bond issue of three and one-half million dollars was voted in 1907, and since that time this county has spent in addition thereto four million dollars, raised by taxation for like construction.

CROW-ELKHART

IS GAINING STEADILY IN POPULARITY SAYS STANSBURY MOTOR CO.

The Stansbury Motor Company of 712 East Broadway are introducing the Crow-Elkhart car to the people of Glendale, Pasadena, Eagle Rock, Altadena, Flintridge, La Canada, La Crescenta, Sunland and Montrose and are meeting with great encouragement. They say that those who have not been familiar with this car are surprised at its action, its beauty of outline and its low price, qualifications not always found in the same car. If the enthusiasm of the Glendale agency is any evidence of the worth of the car it is indeed excellent. They say that the Crow-Elkhart is on a par with any $2000 car, so they don't have any difficulty in selling it. They make immediate deliveries and their terms are very attractive to prospective purchasers, they say.

Chevrolet Beats Storm

HAIR-RAISING TRIP

Tuesday morning about 3 a. m. Dr. C. Stuart Steelman pulled into Glendale after adventures encountered in a trip to Blythe by auto which he says he would not repeat for $500. He left Saturday for the booming young city, having received word that his wife was ill. With him was his brother-in-law. It rained from the beginning of their journey, but the further they went the harder it rained, and at Palm Springs the water was descending in torrents and accompanied by a forty-mile wind. When they reached Indio it was descending in sheets. As soon as they had replenished oil and gas they started up the seventeen-mile canyon, which led to the desert where roads practically cease and where the traveler must be guided by the streams in making the journey across it of ninety-two miles. They found it some trick to negotiate the steep descent from the high mesa above Blythe into the city, which is built on adobe soil which has been much thrown up in the improvement operations now going on for the laying of an irrigation system, and before long they sank to the hubs in mud. Extricating themselves somehow they finally reached the city only to find that Mrs. Steelman and her sister had taken the train Saturday night. Making the best of the situation after a few hours' sleep they turned back and retraced their way over a roadless country from which the storm had obliterated all indications of travel. Stopping at one of the springs they observed a man who motioned them back and told them not to go forward at once because there had been a cloudburst in one of the mountain canyons. Presently they were witnesses to the truth of his warning, for across the path they would have traversed it came, a wall of water four feet high which spread out three-quarters of a mile in width. About two miles distant it all disappeared in the sand and they went forward in safety, although the water had ploughed out ruts four to five feet deep in places. All the way home they ran through terrific rain. The doctor drives a Chevrolet, which he views with new respect. He did not buy it with any expectation that it would be called upon for rough work, but the way it stood up against the wind and rain and the way it negotiated the hazards of the trip have won the whole-hearted admiration of the doctor and his companion. Both feel that they have been wonderfully lucky.

DR. H. R. HARROWER SAYS LIVES ARE MENACED BY CARELESSNESS OF DRIVERS

Dr. Henry R. Harrower declares that a terrible accident which may result in the death of some valued citizen is bound to occur on the streets of Glendale unless auto drivers more carefully observe the traffic rules in regard to signals. Said he in making his complaint:

"Three times since six o'clock last night I have come within an ace of killing some one. If people would follow the rules there would not be accidents. On California Street last night the driver of a big car put his hand up and then turned to the left when the signal indicated that he was going to turn to the right. On Broadway at Kenwood, near the Ford Agency, the driver of a Ford began to turn before he put his hand out when he should have done it at least a second before he did the turning."

DRASTIC PROHIBITION LAW IN GEORGIA

The motorist who feels impelled to transport the drug, alcohol, in any of its various forms, using his machine for conveyance purposes therefor, will do well to keep away from Georgia. If you are caught with the goods your machine is liable to confiscation, and, more than that, if a friend or employe uses your automobile in the nefarious work, likewise the car is subject to confiscation and public sale.

The law has been held constitutional by the appellate court of last resort.

HIGHWAY ENGINEERS

TRAINED ROAD BUILDERS ARE THE GREATEST NEED OF THE HOUR

Needed trained highway engineers! Where? All over this country.

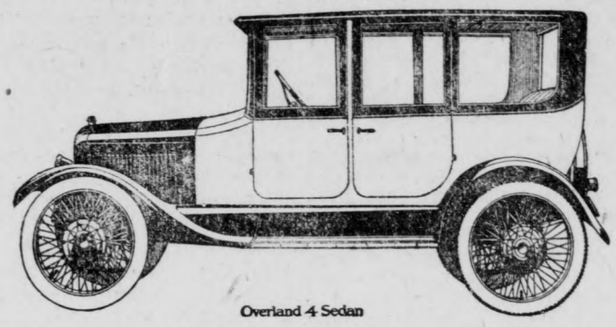

The year 1920 is to see the greatest forward step in road-building which this country has ever taken. The day of the makeshift road is over, the day of penny-wise appropriations has gone by. Where thousands of dollars were spent formerly, millions are to be spent this year.

The market is to be brought to the patron over a good road; the patron is to motor out to the farmer over a highway which permits speed along with safety.

If the money is to be spent wisely, if the taxpayer is to receive his money's worth, these roads must be built by men who are experts. If state provisions call for the assignment of road-building jobs to local men, they must specify that these men shall have expert training before they use the public funds.

One great university, Michigan, has already anticipated the demand for such engineering work, and has installed a department of road-building. The course is short, and leave of absence is included in it to enable students to get practical experience on road jobs already under way. Such courses should be a feature of every curriculum which pretends to offer technical training.

The construction of highways too long has been a matter of small politics and graft. From now on the job should go to the man who knows how, and provision for a trained body of such men should be a part of the policy of every state.

PUBLIC CAMP GROUND SITE AT LAKE TAHOE

A public camp ground, fronting directly on the shores of Lake Tahoe, and including such conveniences as boating and bathing piers, attractive free campsites with rustic tables and benches, pure water piped from a nearby mountain stream and a modern comfort station is assured for next year, according to L. A. Barrett, Assistant District Forester here.

Approximately $1000 has already been spent in clearing out the underbrush, getting rid of down logs, etc. During May and June, it is planned to install a domestic water supply system. The water will be piped from Ward Creek, a little mountain stream nearly a mile distant. As rapidly as possible piers for bathing and boating, secondary roads and trails, tables, benches, and fireplaces will be built.

The camp will be located two miles south of Tahoe Tavern, on the west shore of the Lake, and is directly on the highway.

That is the statement Barney Oldfield dares to make after selling MANY million dollars' worth during the greatest first-year-production of an advertised article in the history of the world.

The Master Tire, Made by the Master Driver of the World

Not only are the Oldfield Cord and Fabric Tires the strongest built, but the ZINC OXIDE TREAD is the toughest and most wear-resisting composition used today. Stages running from San Diego to Imperial Valley, throughout Imperial Valley and Arizona (the worst roads in the country), have adopted the Oldfield tire over all others. Two retreads are not uncommon in this service on these wonderful tires.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Surest Thing in the World

Two and two have always made four. There would not be more than three million five hundred thousand Ford cars in daily service—which is just about one-half of all the automobiles in America—if the Ford, as a reliable motor car, did not meet the demands of all classes of people everywhere and under all circumstances.

Two and two have always made four. If the material, the iron and the marvelous Vanadium steel used in the construction of the Ford chassis, were not of the highest quality known to the science of Metallurgy, then the Ford car could not have won its world-wide reputation for reliability.

Two and two have always made four. When replacements and repairs are required on Ford cars, the Ford owner will be wise in bringing his car to our place, because we use only the Genuine Ford Parts, and we have the Ford skilled mechanics, and all the Ford knowledge that goes to maintain the high standard of quality which is original in the Ford car.

When you want a Ford car or a Ford truck, and when you want repairs or replacements for the same, we earnestly solicit your business, assuring you of prompt attention, real Ford service, and economical Ford prices.

UNION INDEMNITY—

Auto Insurance at a Saving of up to 55 Per Cent and Why?

RESPONSIBILITY—

The latest available reports for the auto insurance business transacted in this state for a given period are those for the year ending Dec. 31, 1918. They show that in the year 1918 Automobile Insurance premiums received in this state from all Companies and Exchanges amounted to $4,222,151.80 and that out of this sum the total losses paid amounted to only $1,359,063.75. Of these amounts the Inter-Exchanges show Premiums Received $1,170,264.61 and Losses Paid $372,147.38, thus showing that the Exchanges maintained the same ratio between premiums and losses as the other 103 companies operating here. They did this while writing insurance far below Board rates; they paid the highest commissions to their agents, rendered the best service and at the end of the year they refunded to the policy holders up to $15.00 to $20.00 on the hundred dollars. The automobile insurance exchanges are now writing over 50 % of the automobile insurance business of Southern California. The Automobile Club of Southern California alone claims to have written well over $1,000,000.00 of Auto Insurance in the year 1919.

Frequently some one who is still paying Board rates for automobile insurance will ask what would become of an Exchange if so and so's fleet of cars burned tonight, and the Blank Laundry's fleet burned tomorrow night, and the Tanner Auto Service's forty cars burned the next night. Nothing would go amiss. We would be doing business the next day and the next year just the same, if for no other reason because we carry RE-INSURANCE against any and all excessive losses.

If you will really investigate the Inter-Exchange Auto Insurance business of the State you can arrive at but one conclusion, and that is, that people who still insure with Board Companies either do so because they do not know about the Exchanges or are throwing their money away in the mistaken belief that they are being conservative. Of the Exchanges —OUR RATES ARE THE LOWEST.

SERVICE—

THE LAW REQUIRES THAT WE PLACE 70 % OF ALL PREMIUMS IN A FUND TO PAY LOSSES; and 60 % of all Public Liability premiums must be carried for three years. We can never get our hands on this again. All of the surplus goes back to you policy holders. A Board (or stock) Company has four ways of making money. 1. Write new business. 2 Re-write old business. 3. Make close adjustments. 4. By deferring payments of settlements make interest on their money (your money). Exchanges have only two ways. 1. Write new business. 2. Rewrite old business. We leave it to you. Isn't it logical and just plain common sense that we would make the most liberal and generous adjustments and give the most efficient service? Why should we have a dissatisfied customer as a result of a close adjustment? We would only lose that man's business, which is our only chance for profit. The money saved would remain in the fund to be distributed back among the policy holders.

COST—

We can quote you lower rates than those of any other Insurance Company or Inter-Exchange operating in this district. For example, a Board Company rate for your business in Public Liability is $55. Our rate is $26.25. Board rates for Property Damage for cars in your business are $22.00 as against $10.50, our rate, and $9.00 rate on Fords.

Three Special "full coverage" rates we make are: Ford Roadsters and Touring Cars, $48.75; Ford Trucks, $65.00, and Chevrolets, $53.00 Full coverage here means, Fire and Theft, Transportation (full coverage), Collision, Public Liability and Property Damage. Our rates on all pleasure cars other than Fords and Chevrolets are 25 % lower than the Board rates on all lines of auto insurance. Our rates on Fire, Theft and Collision for commercial cars are 25 % below the Board rates. In addition we allow "fleet" rate reductions for the same per cent as the Board Companies when the insured has five or more automobiles.

pecial appeal to the English at this time when they are called upon to deal with Irish revolt. At an assembly of the A. 9s, Miss Renison read "The Perfect Tribute," and at the assembly of the B. 9s Mr. Moyse read extracts from Irving Bachellor's book, "The Man of the Ages," which is of great public interest because of its new viewpoint. It is said to be founded upon a diary left to posterity by the Traylor family, which migrated from Vermont to Illinois to that section of the frontier in which Abraham Lincoln was living. It fell into the hands of Irving Bachellor who has made it the basis of his story.

The new term has brought changes in the Explosion staff. John Worley has been made editor-in-chief and J. T. Jenkins, managing editor; while the staff of associate editors will now include Leland Wise, '20, J. Laughlin '20, A. Campbell '21, V. Colburn '21, R. Hutchinson '20, A. Owen '21, C. Wednesday the class in Household Management visited the establishment of Barker Brothers in Los Angeles and spent a half day looking over furnishings and studying the furniture of the different periods, which proved most fascinating, especially as Mr. Barker personally devoted an hour or more to the class pointing out the characteristics to be looked for. In commenting upon the matter, Miss Hanson, instructor of the class, remarked how indifferent we are to the types and histories of the things with which we live in the furnishings of our homes while in some other things, notably automobiles, every little gamin in the street corner can at once identify every mark of car and differentiate its types. Said she: "How little we know or care about the processes through which our breakfast foods have been taken before they reach us, or even what has been done to the milk we drink since it left the cow. If our girls were at once able to recognize a table of the Chippendale type, or a Louis XVI chair, or even the Colonial period in our own country, thus linking everyday things with the history of the race, it would be knowledge pleasant to possess. The class will go to the city again in the near future to study rugs and linens. The group which made the trip Wednesday included Miss Ellen Hanson, teacher; Misses Esther Black, Ruth Nicholson, Eltha Harding, Helen Woods, Mildred Singleton, Lucile Woods and Leola Webster.

a little less than the above mentioned total, the difference being the exact amount of the valuation of the Glorietta District, which was annexed after the publication of this Taxpayers' Guide.

In order that the facts may be correctly understood I trust that you will publish this communication.

Yours very truly,
Hartley Shaw,
President of the High School Board.

The statement previously published in the Evening News to the effect that the bonding capacity of the District would be exceeded by authorizing the additional issue of $425,000 in bonds was justified by the report of the Auditor of Los Angeles County for fiscal year ending June 30, 1919. This report shows the valuation of the district to be $10,769,355, of which sum 5 per cent amounts to $538,467.75. The statement of Mr. Shaw that an additional grammar school district has been annexed since that report was published, explains the discrepancy. It might still be a question for the lawyers to decide, whether the district has a right to anticipate the increased valuation since the beginning of the present fiscal year. However, we thank Mr. Shaw for the explanation, and it is the wish of the Evening News that the honest valuation of the district might be double what it is.
